Do you Need Buildings?

If you do and put off building because lumber is high, are you not making a mistake?

There is not any prospect at present of lumber prices going down much for a number of years, and the comfort you and your family will get out of a good house will more than repay any extra cost. If it is a barn or machine shed you need your live stock and the life of your machinery will more than repay any extra cost.

Our prices, however, are not high, our price list mailed to you on request, will prove that the quality is of the best and is thoroughly air dried.

Why let others handle your products when you can handle it yourself and save the profits they make.

COME IN AND LET US EXPLAIN IT TO YOU.

WHY EXPERIMENT?

Food scientists claim that the leavening is largely responsible for the flavor, texture and wholesomeness of your home baking. That on no other one ingredient does so much depend. It is important, therefore, to use a baking powder that you know possesses the necessary leavening qualities.

MAGIC BAKING POWER

and is the only strictly high class baking powder in Canada, selling at a moderate price. Its reputation is built on purity and highest quality.

The only well known medium priced baking powder made in Canada that does not contain alum and that has all its ingredients plainly stated on the label.

Made in Canada

The Demand for Uniformity

In this very practical age there is a widespread demand for the adoption of uniform methods in business, uniform systems of currency and weights and measures uniform laws in relation to many subjects, even a uniform language, and some people would have a uniform and simplified calendar, a uniform church, while the extremists in the ranks of labor would have all men and women become servants of the state, with no private ownership of property. In a word, there is a growing tendency to standardize everything that can be standardized without giving much thought to the all-important question whether such standardization would ultimately prove to be of benefit to the human race.

In order to provide for quantity production, standardization is necessary. The war emphasized that truth. Furthermore, standardization makes for economy in manufacture. Hardly anyone will deny that if it were possible to standardize all makes of agricultural machinery, with all parts interchangeable, it would mean an enormous saving in time, labor and money. And what is true in regard to implements of agricultural production is equally true in many other lines.

Efforts which have been put forth in recent years in Canada to bring about a larger degree of uniformity in legislation are also along the right line. With a Federal Parliament and nine Provincial Legislatures all passing laws every twelve months, and in many instances all dealing with the same subject, the need for uniformity where it is at all possible is quite manifest. If confusion is to be avoided and people enabled to have a clear understanding of the law, it is therefore, gratifying to know that success is attending the efforts of those who are striving to bring about uniform insurance laws, uniform laws governing companies, a uniform divorce law, and so on. The various movements to establish throughout Canada uniform qualifications for doctors, lawyers, dentists, school teachers, etc., so that persons qualified in any of these professions in one Province will be eligible to follow them in another Province, are sane, sensible and economically and nationally wise.

There are, however, some demands for uniformity which should receive careful scrutiny and serious consideration before they are complied with. Take, for example, the agitation for a common language. In the first place it is a waste of time because it is impractical. People will not relinquish their mother tongue, and while it is right and proper that in an English-speaking country every child should be obliged to learn English, and the teaching of English in every school should be insisted upon, it is the height of folly to expect all people to abandon the use of their native tongue. And to endeavor to provide a universal language for the world, whether it be English, or French, or Latin, or Esperanto, is futile. But even if it could be accomplished, would not the human race be the loser through such uniformity and the elimination of all the beauties of expression of which every language has its share? Even admitting the practical advantages of a universal language, could not the losses resulting therefrom more than offset the practical advantages gained?

Then there are those who would have the metric or decimal system of weights, measures and coinage adopted all over the world. Others would reform the calendar and provide for a year of thirteen months, each containing exactly four weeks, so that any given date would always fall on the same day of the week; that is, if the 1st, 8th, 15th and 22nd of January were Sunday, so, too, would the same dates in all the other months fall on Sunday, and what would be true of Sunday would, of course, be true of every other day in the week. These changes would, of course, have their advantages, but in view of the tremendous upheaval they would work in so many ways, their adoption is very remote. Little is to be gained, therefore, in wasting time over them.

But wherever it is possible to bring it about there should be uniformity in legislation within Canada. Such uniformity will tend to unify our people; it will have a tendency to develop that national spirit of which this Dominion stands so greatly in need. Quite as much as a protective tariff it will assist to develop interprovincial trade and enable Canadian industrial and financial institutions to do a successful business in Canada. The three Prairie Provinces of the West have advanced along this line to a far greater extent than the rest of Canada, and their example may well be followed by the other Provinces, and also further developed here in the West.

AN EXCELLENT MEDICINE FOR LITTLE ONES

Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent medicine for little ones. They are a mild but thorough laxative which sweetens the stomach and regulates the bowels, thus bringing relief in cases of constipation, indigestion, colic, colds and simple fever. Consulting them Mrs. L. J. Chaisson, Paquetville, N.B., writes:—"I have found Baby's Own Tablets excellent for my young baby in the case of constipation and colic and it gives me great pleasure to recommend them to other mothers." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

They do their work thoroughly and strength and soundness follow their use.

Indian Acquires Wealth

Forty-five Bushels to the Acre on the Indian Reserves.

The value of the crop now being taken off the Government Grant Production Farms is estimated at $2,500,000 by officials of the department of Indian affairs here. It is stated that the wheat on the Alberta farms is running forty-five bushels to the acre and is grading No. 1. Fifteen cars have been moved east. The wheat is being threshed at the rate of 20,000 bushels a day by ten outfits. One hundred thousand bushels of the estimated 500,000—bushel crop has been threshed.

The year's profits will be well over $1,000,000.

Moving Pictures of Livestock Industry

Pathe Corporation Is Working In Conjunction With Grain Growers' Association.

Manor, Sask., is the scene of the initial chapters of a film story which is being prepared by the Pathe Film Corporation, which will show the working of the cattle industry from producer to market.

The film is being made by arrangement with the Grain Growers' Association, and shows the cattle on the farm of Chris Jacobi, followed by a scene of a large shipment being collected and loaded on the cars at the Manor stockyards and thence to the Winnipeg market.

On completion the film will be shown extensively throughout the west, and it is expected to show the western farmer in a way that could not otherwise be done, why some cattle are sold at a loss, and how to get the best results in marketing livestock.

Hence the loss of strength, the nervous debility, the loss of flesh and other evils which must be expected unless relief is secured. Fortunately relief is possible. Dr. J. D. To Increase Membership

Knights of Pythias Reducing Minimum Age Limit to Eighteen Years.

In conformity with its general program of policy of expansion by which it is proposed to carry the principles of the order into new fields of Pythian endeavor, the Knights of Pythias at the recent biennial convention of its Supreme Lodge at Minneapolis adopted an amendment to its organic law reducing the minimum age limit to 18 years. Since the order was founded, membership has been restricted to white male persons not less than 21 years of age and under 50, except that persons over 50 might be accepted as members by dispensation. But out of the great World War many losses came of a nature calculated to change the old order of things.

Inspired by thoughts of service performed and sacrifices made by the boys of the land and being deeply sensible to the conviction that if a boy of 18 years is man enough, strong enough and patriotic enough to serve his country in time of war, he is competent physically, mentally and temperamentally to participate in the settlement of the problems of peace that came to us as a heritage of the war in which he fought.

The Knights of Pythias have invited boys and men of 18 years and over to enroll under the tricolored banner of Pythian Knighthood in the movement designed to banish discontent and discord and make the world brighter and happier.

Sunken Eyes Brighten Quickly, Health Returns

In a Message to Ailing Women Doctor Hamilton Tells How It Is Done

In speaking of the ills from which women suffer, Dr. Hamilton points out that nine out of every ten women are by nature inclined to habitual constipation. Harsh purgatives are resorted to which only intensify the trouble. Although not generally known, it is a constipated condition of the bowels that causes half the sickness and tired weariness with which all mankind is so familiar. It was after long years of study that Dr. Hamilton perfected the pills which have been of such marvelous benefit to women the world over. In his pills of Mandrake and Butter-nut every sufferer will find an absolute specific for constipation, sick headache and biliousness. It is safe to say that Dr. Hamilton's Pills bring better health and keep the system in a more vigorous condition than any other medicine ever discovered. At all dealers, in 25c boxes.

An arrest has been made of W. K. Beard a switchman employed by the C. P. R. Co in Calgary, in connection with the theft of 500 boxes of cigars valued at $1100 which were stolen from a freight car some two weeks ago and which were located on the premises of the Chinese laundry in Crossfield. It appears that a big car was noticed to stop in front of the laundry and unload several suspicious looking cartons, shortly afterwards Constables Valk and Belshaw in possession of a search warrant visited the place and found the cartons concealed under a quantity of bedding, the proprietor denied all knowledge of the goods but afterwards admitted they had been left there by two men from Calgary. Further enquiries were made to the Calgary officials and on Monday it was ascertained the cigars were missing from a car en route for Taber. Inspector Grayson of the C. P. R. Investigation Dept. came to Crossfield on Tuesday and identified the goods as those which should have reached Taber that day. Beard will answer the charge before Magistrate Sanders, this morning (Thursday).

On Monday last a young man of the district was brought up before Ivor Lewis J. P. on a charge of being drunk in a public place. The accused pleaded guilty to the offence and was fined $20.00 and cost which included the price of a broken window etc. The total amount being $33.75. His Worship remarked that cases of this kind were becoming common of late and any further cases that were brought before him he would hand out justice and guilty offenders would meet with severe punishment.

The Annual meeting of the Women's Guild of the Church of the Ascension took place at the home of the President, when a highly successful year's work was reported on by Mrs. R. W. McFarlane, Sec. Treas. After her report had been read and adopted the following officers were unanimously re-elected for the forthcoming year: President, Mrs. S. Willis. Vice-President, Mrs. F. L. Watters. Sec. Treas. Mrs. R. W. McFarlane.

Precise Perfection

They are sti chucking down San Diego way over the old timer who a spell was in command of one of the Mexican border detachments. Seems the old chap summoned his adjutant to headquarters one morning after parade and gave him a good dressing down on account of the slovenliness of his troops.

Now it chances to be an A. I. troop, and the adjutant was sure that everything had been as perfect as it could possibly be. He told the colonel so.

"That will do, sir," snapped the colonel. "There must be uniformity in any army to differentiate it from a mob. This morning there was a noticeable lack of uniformity, especially in the band. You will inform the bandmaster that he must instruct his trombone players to work their trombone slides in unison. I must have uniformity in the regiment."

Had a Lot of Sense

There was an old geezer and he had a lot of sense, he started up a business on a dollar and eighty cents. The dollar for stock, and the eighty for an ad. brought him three lovely dollars in a day by day.

Well, he bought more goods and a little more space, and he played that system with a smile on his face.

The customers docked to his two by four and soon he had to hustle for a regular store. Up on the square where the people pass, he gobbled up a store that was all plate glass. He fixed up the windows with the best he had and told all about it in a half page ad.

He soon had 'em coming and he never ever quit, and he wouldn't cut down on his ad. one bit. And he's kept things humming in the town ever since, and everybody calls him the Merchant Prince. Some say it's luck, but that's all bunk. Why he was doing business when the times were punk!

People have to purchase and Geeser was wise, for he knew the way to get 'em was to advertise.—Associated.

On Body and Face, Rashed and Itchy, Cried for Hours, Lasted a Year.

"A rash started all over my little girl's body, and she had some on her face. It started in a small place that was full of water, and it got red and itchy. She cried for hours. This trouble lasted a year."

"Then I started with a free sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I bought more, and I used four cakes of soap and three boxes of Ointment which healed her." (Signed) Mrs. Dora Langley, 1032 Gertrude St., Verdun, Que., August 11, 1918.

The Cuticura Toilet Trio Consisting of Soap, Ointment and Talcum is an indispensable adjunct of the daily toilet in maintaining skin purity and skin beauty. "Well, my putting that mill there might have been the death of me all right," he said. "But, lad, you haven't told me why you came to meet me with the hounds."

"Yes, sir; it was this way. A man from the village was chased by this 'ere pack last night. 'E was over at the stables to-night and 'e told me I came out a ways and listened for a time, an' when I 'eard 'em 'owl I let the big 'uns loose, thinkin' as 'e 'ud not mind my doin' it under the circumstances, sir."

"You did just right, lad," said Hallibut. "But did you bring their leashes, Dick?"

"Right 'ere in my saddle bag, sir." "Well, 'ud better tie 'em up before they happen on an Indian. This country is getting so 'e Indians are becoming more valuable every day," Dick checked.

"They do 'ate Indians an' niggers, sir; an' sir, that reminds me, there's an old Indian from the Point by the name of Noah Sturgeon waitin' up at the place to see you, sir."

The Colonel knelt his brows. "Sturgeon," he repeated; "Noah Sturgeon—don't think I ever heard of him."

"Your 'orse, sir?" questioned Dick looking about him.

"Never mind about my horse—I'm going to ride you. You follow up and keep a tight grip on the hounds. I don't want that old Indian to get eaten up."

They passed on down the black trail, and the spot that had witnessed the struggle between the big 'uns and the starving things of the Wild grew silent again with a great and oppressive silence. They followed the dark crept from the sky away down and below the forest fringe; then the white stars came out and rested, looking down on the Fire Lick. Their soft light swept the open and fell across the crumpled forms of the dead things that lay around the forest Wild. They lay pitifully silent and huddled, their red tongues bulging their starved days at an end. Further into the second growth bushland there were others of them, lying cold, huddled at life of the Wild. They had been cut off from their own; they had starved and fought and died. But they were only wolves after all.

CHAPTER XXII.
Injun Noah.

The cold dawn was stealing across the lake when Colonel Hallibut rode into his yard and, dismounting, turned the horse over to Dick. The hounds leaped and fawned upon him and he sternly commanded them to keep down. He led them through the door into the great kennel yards and there arose a bedlam of glad yelp and growl of rage, as each favorite was petted or felt the tangs of jealousy of a stronger fellow. The master played the whip among them, laughing and shouting.

"Oh, you beauties!—Black Dan, you first-rate, you!—You 'ere, you, branch of the devil. Poor old Jap; come on, pump, and let me pat your head, you 'ere, you, you, you, you! Weren't in the fight last night, were you? Too old, boy; too old and stiff. Every dog has his day, Jap, and every man, too. Egad, boy, I thought for a while last night that mine was over!"

The old hound laid his wrinkled chin in his master's hand and gazed up at him with age-weakened eyes. Some of the younger dogs of the pack retreated snarling, with bristles erect, and lying down a short distance away, licked the wounds received in the night's encounter. Hallibut walked across to a wide, low building and unlocked the door.

"In there, all of you," he shouted; and the dogs sprang toward the door. Old Jap came last, limping painfully, his whole attitude one of protest.

"Not you, old fellow," said the man; "you can stay out, and you'd best hang close to me."

He shrugged his broad shoulders, and with the old favorite following, entered the yard and entered the stables. Dick was cleaning out the fetlocks of the horses, and the old hound just ridden in, with his master entered, then went on with his work.

"Where's Fury?" asked Hallibut, peering into an empty stall.

"Turned 'im out in the yard," stammered Dick. "E was kicked in the night some 'ow, sir. I'm sorry, but he couldn't be 'elped; E broke 'is 'alter, sir."

"That flame of Hades is always breaking his halter," cried Hallibut. "Well, if you can't keep any of your horses, here's ten dollars—buy a halter he can't break, and keep your horse. I see this one you're wearing has been played with recently, eh?"

"Why, sir, that's so," laughed Dick. "It do seem, sir, as I can't keep any of my horses any more, that stud Dobbo is that playful, sir."

"Well, you best look out that Dobbo don't get your headstone time. And now when you've eaten and rested a bit I want you to put the saddle on Bay Tom and ride some of the kicks of him. Go after the mare that turned traitor last night and fetch the well-pets back with you. They'll make the hounds a nice warm bed for the winter, and I guess they bring to the hounds all right. Don't know what I owe those dogs something like myself."

"I don't think, sir, as Bay Tom'll take like I carry 'em raw furs. E do seem 't 'ate the scent of blood. E'll like the mischief, sir, 'e will, and maybe kill me, 'e will."

"Well, if he kills you," said Hallibut, "I won't ever ask you to ride again. Now, you understand. And, Dick, I want that horse put through his paces. Use quiet and spur, and lather him till he weakens. I'd do it myself only I don't get the schooner stocked for a cruise."

"Very well, sir. And sir, the old Injun," 'e be waitin' to speak with you."

By George—I had forgotten. Yes, I'll find out see him now."

The Colonel's housekeeper met him at the kitchen door. "The old Injun, raising her hands, 'I'm so glad you've returned! Hall night 'eaven be scared most to death, sir. 'E's in the kitchen, sir, in the fireplace. 'E's awful to look at, sir."

Hallibut chuckled and laid his hand on the old lady's shoulder. "You mean the old Indian, Nancy? Press your heart, woman, he's harmless as a baby most likely. Bet a dollar he's been at my deerstalker. I'll go in and see him. I just lay the table for two of us. Like as not, bring an Indian, he can eat whether he's hungry or no."

"But, sir," protested the old woman, "you'll not have 'im sit with you, sir."

"My dear Nancy, after what I've been through I'd welcome the company of a snake, providing it was a real snake and wasn't clean. You please see that two plates are laid."

The big man stalked forward and opened the door into the wide sitting-room. Before the log fire was bent a slight figure clad in buckskin. The Colonel saw an old withered man, his thin face seamed with wrinkles, his black eyes peering from deep hollows that age had sunk there. His hair was cross-black and long, falling about his narrow shoulders. He arose with a hite motion as the Colonel entered.

"How?" he said in good English. "How?" returned the master of the house, holding out his hand. The old Indian looked at it, but made no motion toward taking it. He raised his arm and pointed about the room.

"Good," he said, "much good." "Sit down," invited the Colonel. "Now tell me what brings you here. You live on 'Point Aux,' I under-

"Much," he said; "very much. Noah wish to speak of Bushwhacker. You leave Bushwhacker there; no touch! You know Bushwhacker girl—Gloss—you know; good."

He pointed toward the portrait. It was that of a young girl with glorious long-lashed eyes and smiling lips. Hallibut leaned his gaze, frowned, then going over to the sideboard, glanced along the array of bottles there. He picked up a glass and sniffed it.

"Have you been sampling any of these bottles?" he asked sternly. "Noah no drink until he speak. Noah know her," pointing to the portrait.

Faint and Dizzy Spells. Weakness and Shortness of Breath.

You can generally tell when the heart is affected by the faint and dizzy spells, the shortness of breath, palpitation, throbbing, irregular beating, smothering sensations, weak, sinching, all-gone feeling, choking sensation.

Many men and women become rundown and worn out when otherwise they could be strong and healthy if they would only pay some attention to the first sign of heart weakness.

No remedy will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy and normal condition as Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills.

Mrs. C. A. S. Drake, Paris, Ont., writes: "I have used on several occasions the second box of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and find they have done me good. I had those fainting, dizzy spells, once in a while, and also weakness and shortness of breath, and would become so choked up at times I could hardly sleep without sitting up in bed. When walking too fast I would have to stop and try to catch my breath. I feel a lot better since I have used your pills and know that they have helped me wonderfully as I have improved very much."

Serious House Shortage

Every Man Should Endeavor to Own His Own Home.

Those newcomers entering our town and making this their home have our sincere sympathies if in looking for a home they seek in vain. By a home we mean a real home, one fit to live in and that gives a sense and feeling of satisfaction.

The shortage of homes while a serious matter, yet is one of encouragement to the newcomer. It shows progressiveness, it points out that by building he will have a far readier sale for his own home if he desires to move. It indicates a demand, and a demand in a case of this kind is better than an over-plus.

In making this place your new home also make it your purpose to own your home by building. Build now, when the opportunity is the greatest. Any lumber dealer is fully equipped to render every co-operation in showing plans, figuring costs, etc.

Good Wheat Yield In Saskatchewan

No Failures Reported on Well Cultivated Land.

Notwithstanding the rains since crops were cut and the hold-up of threshing for ten days, grain threshed in the Moose Jaw and Swift Current districts, and all Southwestern Saskatchewan is grading No. 1 Northern, says the Saskatchewan Farmer. The straw is colored but the grain is in perfect condition, weighing over 60 pounds to the bushel. The yield of wheat is reported in most cases as better than expected. Where the yield is light, farmers invariably give the reason as "poor cultivation." There are no failures on summer fallows well cultivated and free from weeds. The yield on such fields is above the average.

FREIGHT RATES CASE ARGUED AT OTTAWA

THE QUESTION IS RAISED OF ALLEGED DISCRIMINATION

Eastern and Western Rates Both
Want Freight Rates
Modified.

Ottawa.—Introduction of the question of alleged discrimination in freight rates between the East and West in the argument before the Government on the appeal from the railway commission, presents to some degree a new phase of the question, and there was some reason to anticipate that the case will be referred back to the commission.

In the judgment of the board, this question was gone into exhaustively. In the argument now in progress here, it proves to be a very vital element in the case with a rather curious conflict between different parties on the same side. It is not improbable that the case will be referred back to enable the question of discrimination to be looked into, the railways contending that it does not exist, the western counsel holding that it does and part of counsel for eastern interests contending that it should obtain anyway. The way out may prove to be a re-hearing before the board, thus relieving the Government of the responsibility of ratifying the increase and also of the distasteful process of overruling the commission which is a very rare occurrence, if the 1917 case can be regarded as a precedent. Should there be a re-hearing the increased rates meanwhile will remain in force.

While a variety of interests are lined up against the railway rates increase and ask the Government to disallow it, the attack is from divergent and rather conflicting angles. It is the old question of east and west. The railways seek a sharp increase in rates and they have got it from the tribunal which exercises jurisdiction over them. Provincial, municipal and commercial bodies are engaged in the appeal that seeks redress from the Government, but the west wants rates determined in one way, the east wants it done another way. There is a variety of views and a variety of issues raised and this fact caused Sir James Loughheed to suggest that the appellants get together and determine just what points they desire the Government to pronounce upon.

Both the eastern and western interests, on principle, oppose the increased rates, and want them modified but, while counsel for the western provinces urge that all parts of the country be put on a parity in respect to rates, A. C. McMaster, for the Toronto Board of Trade, in today's argument, held out strongly for the maintenance of the present system, whereby rates east of the lakes are lower than those in the west. His contention was that, without this difference, the eastern manufacturer would be shut out of the western market which would be opened to American competition. It is apparent that the lot of the Government will not be an easy one in developing such a modus operandi as will suit the variety of appellant interests and concurrently minister to needs of the supposedly embarrassed utility.

Manitoba has sent down a clever advocate in H. J. Synnington, whose address in opposition to the rate increase was easily the most elaborate. His contention was that the case must be decided on the necessities of the Canadian Pacific, and that it had not been shown that that company needed assistance. Admitting that assistance is necessary, it should be the greatest aid the disparity between the east and west is received. Another notable point was that the rates should depend on the service rendered and this was linked up with the contention that operating costs on the west are lower, revenues higher and traffic denser, hence the rates should at least be the same as in the east.

To Adopt Manitoba Plan

District Agent Will Fight Sow
Thistle in Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn.—The plan successfully used in Manitoba—that of having district agents—to fight the menace of the sow thistle is advocated for the Northwestern part of Minnesota by J. H. Hay, deputy commissioner of agriculture, who said that the thistle situation is becoming serious in that district.

Mr. Hay urges that a plan of having county agents plan campaigns to eradicate the evil be worked out.

Complain About Car Shortage

C.N.R. Promise to Take Steps to Relieve Situation.

Winnipeg—Steps will be taken to relieve the car shortage in Northern Manitoba on Canadian National lines, it was announced by A. E. Warren, general manager, following an interview with J. L. Brown, Pilot Mound, president of the United Farmers of Manitoba. Mr. Brown complained of the situation to the Board of Railway Commissioners here.

New Steamship Service Planned.

Victoria, B.C.—The British Columbia Coast Steamship Service has under consideration a round-the-island weekly service, as an attraction to tourists next summer. The plan calls for the operation of the Princess Maquinna around Vancouver Island from Victoria. The boat goes as far as Quatsino Sound. Under the new scheme, she would round the end of the island and come down the inside, touching at points en route, going to Vancouver and then returning here.

1920 Wheat Reaches Montreal Harbor.

Montreal.—The first of the 1920 grain crop of Canada has just reached Montreal harbor. It was ascertained at the headquarters of the Canada Steamship lines that the Midland King, with over 200,000 bushels of 1920 wheat, had already unloaded its cargo at Port Colborne, from whence it is being transferred to Montreal.

CANNOT AFFORD TO BE NEUTRAL IN POLITICS

HON. W. L. MACKENZIE KING
SPEAKS AT VANCOUVER.

Liberal Leader Says That This Is a Moment of Transition in Political Conditions.

Vancouver, B.C.—Before a great audience here which gave Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and his colleagues a most enthusiastic reception and hearing, the leader of the Liberal party, addressing the second meeting of his tour of the western provinces, laid special emphasis on the fundamental difference in attitude, methods and outlook between the party in office at Ottawa and that of the Liberal party.

This is a moment of transition in social and political conditions which will go far to determine the whole future trend of Canada's destiny as a nation, and no man or woman, the Liberal chief declared, can afford to be neutral in his or her political allegiance. The choice, he said, is between those who are not afraid of change in the social order, and those who resist change, and between those who are progressive and those who are reactionary. He said that in these days of readjustment, little thought or attention had been given to domestic affairs, that since the election of 1911, there had been no occasion on which the people of Canada as a whole had had an opportunity of hearing national issues discussed with reference to those problems which are primarily of domestic concern.

Hon. Mr. King discussed the leading questions of the day, the cost of living and the tariff, declaring that what is wanted is not taking of evidence but immediate reduction in prices of necessities of life. In regard to the high cost of living, Mr. King said, the country had left the people in the dark; taxation, and what he declared was the extravagance of the Government in the matter of civil service appointments and commissions, had played their part in this direction.

The excuse of war expenditure was being worn out, but the real explanation is that proper steps have never been taken to meet the conditions. Other governments, he declared, were all taking these matters into consideration, but the present Canadian Government still seems dilatory.

Dealing more particularly with the fundamental differences in attitude, methods and outlook, between the party in power at Ottawa, and that of the party which he represents, Mr. King said that these were days of new alignments in social and political orders all over the world, and that throughout the period of the war, little thought or attention had been given to domestic affairs.

A body of voters, so large as to constitute an entirely new electorate had come to the fore, the young men between the ages of 20 and 30 and the women voters. It would be found that irrespective of the names by which they may be called, the choice of the electorate lies today, as in the past, between those who are not afraid of change in the social order, and those who resist order, between those who are progressive and those who are reactionary; between those who are prepared to trust the people and assist them in their struggle for a wider freedom, social, economical, fiscal and political, and those who mistrust the people and are more concerned in keeping intact the strongholds of privilege, than in widening the opportunity to the many who constitute the great citizenry of the nation.

Grain Tie-Up Benefits Farmers

C.P.R. Pays Advance of Four Cents Per Bushel.

Regina.—The tie-up of grain transportation on the Canadian National lines is resulting in a benefit to farmers marketing grain on Canadian Pacific railway points of four cents a bushel.

Instructions have been issued by the line elevators to all agents at Canadian Pacific railway points to pay the farmers an advance of four cents a bushel over list prices. This arrangement does not include the Saskatchewan Co-operative Elevator Company. This step has been taken to "speed up" shipments to the head of the Great Lakes.

Poland Receiving Allied Help.

London.—A wireless dispatch from Moscow says that Poland has received large supplies from the allies through Danzig. England, the message declares, sent seven steamers loaded with munitions and three tanks and 12 small vessels with provisions, while the United States sent ships with volunteers. From France, two ships arrived with more than one thousand infantry and 15 tanks, the message says.

Reduction in Collars.

Chicago.—A large middlewestern manufacturer of men's collars announced a 12 1/2 per cent. price reduction.

APPOINTMENT OF MINISTER TO U.S. IS POSTPONED

SUSPEND PLAN FOR CANADIAN
WASHINGTON.

Matter Will Be Left in the Hands of Sir Auckland Geddes to Decide.

Washington.—Appointment of a special Canadian minister plenipotentiary to the United States is understood to have been indefinitely postponed. Canada's interests in the United States must be left in the hands of the Sir Auckland Geddes, the British ambassador, who, because of his long residence in the Dominion, is regarded by the Canadians as having full personal knowledge of the aims and needs of their country.

Steps, looking to the appointment of a Canadian minister, were at first taken some months ago, the Canadians feeling that because of the urgency in rebuilding the trade and economic relations between the two countries were pressing need for direct action on the part of Canada in Washington.

The British Government actually assisted in an appointment being made, and estimates were passed, covering expenditures on Canadian behalf. The plan to establish a separate Canadian minister in Washington has been suspended, however, at least in execution.

An element which has been considered in connection with direct Canadian representation in Washington is that Australia, South Africa and other British colonies and dominions might desire such representation, in fact, there was a movement in some of the dominions for such representation, and the British Foreign Office was said to have taken the view that inefficiency might result from having several Dominion ministers in the United States.

OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

This is a Short Letter, But It Proves the Reliability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Bothwell, Ont.—"I was weak and run down, had no appetite and was nervous, and I took your medicine. The nurse who took care of me told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now I am getting strong. I recommend your medicine to my friends, and you may use my testimonial."—Mrs. W. J. Brady, R. R. 2, Bothwell, Ont.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful in overcoming women's ills is because it contains the tonic, strengthening properties of good old-fashioned roots and herbs, which act on the female organism. Women from all parts of the country are continually testifying to its strengthening, curative influence, and as it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, it is a safe medicine for women.

If you want special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read, and answered by women only.

Our Civilian Soldiers Did Splendid Work As Immigration Agents

The statement has been made that the best immigration agents Canada ever had were her soldiers, and there is a good deal of truth in this. It is inevitable, of course, that in the aftermath of war, the eyes of thousands should be turned to the new fields of endeavor Canada offers settlers, but it must be admitted that the Canadian army has had a large part in bringing this about, and a part of greater value and benefit in acquainting these intending European settlers with what they are to expect in the Dominion, preparing them for the differences which exist in customs, conditions, and characteristics, a comprehension of which is necessary for successful national assimilation.

Before the war, despite active propaganda, a lamentable ignorance of Canada, her conditions of life and opportunities, existed among the masses of people in the British Isles; while on the Canadian side, was an equal lack of understanding with England, her people, their characteristics and their country. With the continuous presence of Canadian troops, their interspersing with the people and their daily intercourse, both sides discovered agreeably, that there was much to learn of the country of the other and that the long-cherished ideas of existing differences were largely imaginary.

Discourses on Canada, Canadian life and its opportunities were remarkably popular with people who anticipated the upheaval which would attend the aftermath of the war, and as a result, not only were settlers unconsciously recruited, but unlike pre-war immigrants, set out for a land they felt they knew, and—thanks to these discourses—largely understood.

In France and Belgium wonderful tales, none the less alluring because of their veracity, were told in village billets, and Canada became the Mecca of thousands of French and Belgian farmers tilling their tiny pieces of land who dreamt of the big productive areas they could hold in the new land. As a consequence, many of them are coming and they may be classed amongst the finest citizens a country could desire. The war bringing men of all nations and pursuits together gave the majority a hitherto unprecedented opportunity of each comparing his own land with that of others, summing up its advantages and of making a just appraisal.

Certainly there were never better immigration agents than these civilian soldiers who had left the country they braved of old Europe in time of trouble. Canada has been well advertised, and in the best way. Great as immigration from the British Isles has been since the termination of hostilities, we are told it is nothing to what the next few years will show when transportation facilities are more adequate to the demand. A little of this flood can be attributed to the unconscious advertising of the Canadian soldier, and best of all, they come as to a home they know, and to people they understand, whose friendship they made in the dark days past.

Special Feed for Moulting Fowls

Sunflower Seeds Recommended For High Percentage of Oil

Feeding experiments with moulting fowls, in which the birds are allowed to select their own rations, show that their natural appetite is not for a nitrogenous ration, as is commonly believed to be the case, but for one comparatively high in fattening qualities. This preference apparently is based upon the fact that while the fowl is growing its new coat of feathers it needs an extra amount of oil and the practical poultry feeder will see that the supply of this is ample. There is little danger of moulting birds becoming overfat and for that reason it is safe to feed corn in as large proportion as the fowls care for it. In the case of fowls moulting late in the fall, after cold weather sets in, it is probable that the preference for fat or oil in the ration is due in part to the need for extra fuel with which to keep the body warm, but even in warm weather the preference of the moulting hen for fat in the ration is noticeable.

Sunflower seeds, which are quite highly recommended for feeding to fowls at this season, owe their value chiefly to the high percentage of oil which they contain and if they can be secured at a reasonable price are a desirable addition to the ration. Oil meal (linseed) is regarded as an especially desirable food during the moulting season, partly because of the oil it contains, but more perhaps because of the fact that it is of a cooling nature and helps to keep the bowels functioning naturally. About 10 per cent may safely be added to the ordinary ration. It is not so high as 30 per cent of oil meal in the mash with no noticeable ill results, but there is no practical advantage in feeding it so heavily.

Captain Fryatt's Ship Sold at Auction

Sum Derived From Sale Used For Charitable Purpose.

Capt. Fryatt's ship, the "Brussels" has been sold at auction at the Baltic Shipping Exchange in London for $15,000. Many ship owners attended the sale, but bidding for the historic ship was not spirited. Sir Ernest Glover, representing the Ministry of Shipping, attended the sale and said a request had been received from the Belgian Government that a portion of the Brussels should be given to them for incorporation in a memorial to Capt. Fryatt, who Belgium was erecting in Zeebrugge. The Government, it was announced, will apply the sum derived from the sale of the Brussels to some charitable purpose connected with Capt. Fryatt's name.

400 Miles by Canoe

Winnipeg Men Return From Long Trip Through North.

Four hundred miles by canoe in the wilds of Northern Manitoba has been the experience of two Winnipeg men, R. F. McWilliams and Prof. R. C. Wallace, commissioner of Northern Manitoba, who returned recently from the Hudson Bay. The trip started at Norway House and the route down the Hayes River was that taken by the Selkirk settlers. Two Indians piloted the canoes.

Alberta Has Three Drainage Basins.

Three large drainage basins are represented in Alberta. The northern half of the province is drained by the Athabasca and the Peace Rivers, which belong to the great Mackenzie system. The Saskatchewan and its tributaries drain the central part; and in the south the Milk River enters the province and after flowing through Canadian territory for a considerable distance re-enters United States territory and flows into the Missouri River basin. The waters of the southern drainage basin of Alberta, therefore, enters the Gulf of Mexico.

Remarkable Growth Of British Columbia Salmon Fisheries

In every part of the civilized world which man has brought under his thralldom, and in the very regions he is exploring and adding to the earth's area of utilitarian value, one will find the ubiquitous salmon can, and it is safe to say that the majority of these tins will be found to bear the name of some locality on the Canadian Pacific coast. In this era of cans and cold storage, methods are devised for preserving most edible commodities and to British Columbia belongs the salmon.

British Columbia leads the Dominion in the value of her fisheries accounting in 1919 for $15,216,397 of the total revenue of $31,348,084. More than two-thirds of this fish value is derived from the salmon catch which is valued at $10,919,959, and is easily the most important fish in catch and value in the Dominion's fisheries. The salmon industry is to-day a strong asset in Dominion revenue and one of the first activities of the Pacific coast, and is, incidentally, the largest fishing enterprise in the world. In a history of more than 50 years of development, it has seen many fluctuations and depressions, and has emerged successfully as an industry of prime importance, capable of yet greater expansion with further development.

The first canning of Pacific salmon was on Fraser River in 1863 when a few cases were put up at New Westminster by a Mr. Annalsdale. Though his efforts were on a very small scale, the enterprise was sufficient to convince him there was a profitable winter he visited Scotland and persuaded Mr. Alexander Ewen to come to British Columbia and engage in the industry; in 1864 they arrived and from that day to the day of his death in 1907, Mr. Ewen was the recognized leader in the salmon industry of British Columbia.

Another pioneer of the industry in the province was William Hume who, after engaging in the business on the Sacramento River in California, transferred his activities to the Columbia River in British Columbia in 1886, on learning that the fish were more plentiful there and the season longer. As he had pioneered the Sacramento, so he initiated the industry on the Columbia and lived to see the pack there increase from 4,000 cases the first season to 655,000 cases in 1884, which was the banner year. By 1883, the number of canneries operating on the Columbia had increased to 39, but vast as was the supply it was unequal to the demands made upon it. After 1884, a decline set in, and by 1900 the number of plants had diminished. Since that time it has been necessary to resort to artificial propagation of salmon in the Columbia and its tributaries.

Commercial canning on the Fraser River in 1876 was represented by three plants and the combined pack was 9,847 cases. By 1901 the number of canneries had increased to 48, to which must be added 25 operating on the American side, in all 73 drawing their supply from the one stream. The principal pack in the early days was of the sockeye variety and in the pinnacle year of the industry, 2,400,000 cases of 48 lbs. were packed. This represented 30 per cent of the entire world's production of canned salmon that year.

The year 1877 saw the commencement of canning operations on the Skeena River, on Puget Sound, and on other streams. On Skeena River the industry has grown and prospered until to-day it is the principal salmon industry point of British Columbia. Puget Sound developed from 5,500 cases in 1887 to 2,500,000 cases in 1913.

By 1891 the combined salmon pack of the Pacific Coast canneries totalled 1,592,975 cases. To-day the salmon canning industry on the coast comprises well over 300 canning establishments with a special investment of well over $50,000,000. The value of the annual output exceeds $100,000,000 and directly and indirectly it gives employment to a vast army of workpeople. The history of 56 years development is pitifully summed up in the difference between 1 and 303 canneries and from 2,000 to 10,000,000 cases of annual output.

Daylight After Dark

Can Have Any Shade Desired By Turning Switch.

From London comes the announcement of the Daylight Reflector for use with artificial light. With it you can switch on daylight after dark. You can have noon sunlight, north skylight or any shade of daylight you desire in the wee sma' hours by just turning the switch. It is no idle boast. It is already an accomplished fact backed up by the Illuminating Engineers' Society and the leading electrical and technical societies of Great Britain. After decades of experimenting and investigation by electrical and scientific experts it remained for a portrait artist, Mr. George Sherringham, of London, by applying a few daubs of color to an electric reflector to reveal the elusive secret.

Mr. Sherringham, during the dull days of winter, found that colors mixed by artificial light differed from those he mixed by daylight. Moreover, unfinished color work begun during daylight could not be continued under artificial light, because the proportions of colors that make up the spectrum from whence we get our daylight changed materially when artificial light was turned on. Naturally, Mr. Sherringham's colors looked altogether different. It was evident, therefore, that a radical change had taken place. The colors of daylight had changed their proportions. So Mr. Sherringham began experimenting with colors of the spectrum, i.e., red, orange, yellow, green, blue, violet on the electric light reflectors, and in time he found the right proportions and produced daylight after dark.

To Connect Islands of Japan

Tunnel Six Miles Long Will Be Completed in 1929.

A project for connecting Nippon, the main island of the Japanese group, with the island of Kyushu by means of a tunnel starting at Skimonoshipi was originated by a Japanese shipping magnate, but has been taken over by the government, which is averse to giving out many details.

It is understood, however, that borings have been made in the sea bed near Skimonoshipi in order to ascertain the geological formation, and that in order to reduce the angle of inclination, the descent of the tunnel will commence about a mile from the coast, and at first run under the narrow channel between the mainland and the little island of Hikoshima, on which an underground station will probably be built. From there it will run under the actual Strait of Skimonoshipi as far as the Strait district a few miles to the west of Moji, where it will join the Kyushu railway. It is estimated that the construction of the tunnel, which will be six miles in length, will cost 12 1/2 million dollars and will be completed in 1929.

Four Hundred Bushels From Seven Acres.

Yields in the irrigated district at Coadale, Alberta, are showing quite a spread. Some farmers will not get twenty bushels to the acre while one man, O. Peterson, claims to have threshed more than four hundred bushels off seven acres. His farm is in the Ready-Made district. D. B. Thomas will get more than thirty bushels to the acre, and L. E. Baldwin, whose farm is also irrigated will average twenty. So far this wheat is grading No. 1.

Great Enthusiasm Over Sunflower Crop

Large Areas in Alberta are Being Sown to Sunflowers This Year.

While the official crop reports contain statistics of record yields of wheat and oats and other coarse grains in many parts of the province, little has been said this year about Alberta's newest village—sunflowers. Yet, this crop, which has been proved by experiments to be equal, ton for ton, to the best of the older sown crops, while the yield per acre is approximately double, has been cultivated extensively in Alberta this year. The exact acreage planted to this crop is not yet known, but very large areas in various parts of Alberta have been sown to sunflowers this year, and an abundant harvest is now being gathered in.

In every part of the province patches of sunflowers are to be found. These are now being cut and yields of from twenty to thirty-five tons to the acre obtained. New silos are to be seen everywhere and in another twelve months time, provided farmers are still as enthusiastic as at present, the total number will be more than doubled.

The Cardston district of Southern Alberta may be taken as an example. Eight silos have been erected this year to take care of sunflowers on small areas. So successful has been the crop that the farmers now plan the construction of one hundred more silos in 1921 when the area sown to this crop will be increased from about 50 to 1,000 acres.

The "Ad" Man in Japan.

Japanese advertisers believe in a lavish use of smiles.

"The paper we sell," runs the announcement in a Tokio stationer's window, "is as solid as the hide of an elephant."

"Step inside!" is the invocation of a big multiple shop in the same city. "You will be welcomed as fondly as a ray of sunshine after a rainy day. Each one of our assistants is as amiable as a father seeking a husband for a dowryless daughter. Goods are despatched to customers' houses with the rapidity of a shot from the cannon's mouth."

A grocer proclaims that his "aspens vinegar is more acid than the tongue of the most fiendish mother-in-law."

Thrashing Returns Uniformly Good

In Manitoba Considerable Fall Plowing
Has Been Done.

Throughout Central Saskatchewan and Alberta thrashing operations have been going on with little interruption for the past fortnight and in several districts over fifty per cent of the grain is now in the granaries.

In the 300 miles of territory between North Battleford and Stony Plains, west of Edmonton, from Edmonton, N. to Calgary and Edmonton to Athabasca and Alliance, and from Hanna to Rose town, thrasher returns show the crops to be uniformly good, wheat running from 20 to 40 bushels per acre and oats 60 to 70, while flax is yielding 12 to 20 bushels per acre. In the Red River valley of Manitoba, farmers turned their attention to fall plowing as soon as they got their thrashing done, and in some localities fifty per cent of this work has already been done. Marketing of grain is being deferred in order that this important work shall not be interfered with.

In Southern and Southwestern Manitoba good progress has been made with thrashing, there having been little delay on account of rains. All crops are turning out well as a general rule. In Central Manitoba frequent showers have occurred since cutting and thrashing has been considerably interfered with in some sections, but wherever it is possible the farmers are making the best of the situation by turning their men and outfits into the fields to plow. In this extensive grain growing section all grains are turning out well, wheat yields running from 15 to 40 bushels per acre.

Asbestos Long in Use.

The silky fibre derived from certain rocks which we call asbestos was familiar to the ancient Greeks and Romans, and was commonly used by them to make fireproof yarn, fireproof rope and fireproof cloth. These are the uses to which asbestos is chiefly put at the present time. It is only in the production of thread from this material that we have much improved upon the ancients. It is now upon so fine that a pound of asbestos will yield two-thirds of a mile of thread. To "wash" a piece of asbestos cloth one has only to put it into fire. That cleans it.

Saskatchewan Wheat Grading High

Big Percentage of the Grain is Grading No. 1 Northern.

Thrashing operations during the past week in the Moose Jaw district have proceeded rapidly, despite the shortage of thrashing hands, according to Mr. Hugh McKellar, secretary of the Moose Jaw Agricultural Society.

Mr. McKellar states that the Robin Hood Mills have been receiving from 8,000 to 10,000 bushels of wheat per day at the elevators from the farmers surrounding the city. The big percentage of the grain received by the Robin Hood Mills is grading No. 1 Northern, with some No. 2 and No. 3.

Another pleasing feature is the scarcity of weeds among the grain. The October price for wheat at the present time is $2.65 1-4 and mills are paying $2.48 at the elevators.

POOR HEALTH LIFE'S HANDICAP

Rich, Red Blood and Strong Nerves Needed to Wink Out.

It has been well said that life is a race. The full blooded man with sound nerves, the bright-eyed, rosy cheeked woman invariably win. The nervous, dyspeptic man, and the ailing anemic woman are left behind. Success in life is largely a question of good health and sound nerves. It is never the shaky, undecided men who are chosen for promotion; the sickly looking, pale woman is not sought after like her happy rosy sisters.

What makes all the difference is the condition of the blood. If your blood is thin and poor, your nerves are bound to suffer, because they have to depend upon good red blood for nourishment. Headaches, undecidability, a shrunk figure and pale, unattractive face tell only too plainly that the blood is at fault.

Both men and women in great numbers have found deliverance from their inferiority in life's blood through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They are a remedy that has been a household word for a generation, and since they tone up the whole system, make the blood rich and clear and strengthen the nerves. Mrs. S. B. Miller, Elmira, Ont., says: "I look upon Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a family medicine, and have reason to praise them for what they have done on our home."

Some years ago, while we were living in Alberta, my husband was so completely run down that he was unable to do any work, and even to carry a pail of water would exhaust him. A doctor was called in who said his heart was affected, and that medicine would be of little use to him. This greatly worried me and I finally tried him. I began Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He began their use and in a short time the swelling in his hands and feet disappeared. We decided to return to Ontario, but the doctor said he could not stand the trip. But the doctor was mistaken, for through the use of the pills, he gained such strength as to be able to look after the harvest, and in a month later we returned to Ontario. My husband still takes a box or two of the pills twice a year, and they keep him in good shape. I have also found the pills good for my growing daughters, and we are never without them in our home."

One of the best things about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is that they do not contain the slightest trace of opiates or harmful drugs. While they are overcoming disease they are building up general conditions of good health. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Age of the Earth.

How old the earth is can only be guessed. In 1860 John Phillips estimated the age of the earth at between 38,000,000 and 96,000,000 years. Considerable difference in one man's figures. George H. Darwin has disagreed the age of the earth from a purely astronomical point of view. From his theory of the earth-moon system he derived an estimate of more than 56,000,000 years.
